

CONFIDENCE
IN EVERY CASE.

Highlights

- California's Salinas Valley received approximately two inches of rain over the past week. Internal burn and mildew pressure are problems in iceberg and romaine, while water damage is an issue in strawberries. Overall shelf-life performance is expected to be below-normal over the next 10 to 14 days due to the recent rain and humid conditions.
- Unseasonable rain in California's Central Valley and Ventura County have reduced overall citrus volume.
- Late-season Navel oranges are nearly depleted. New crop Valencia supplies are beginning to increase.

FEATURED QUESTION

Q: What veg-centric dishes do you offer to counter traditionally meat-focused Father's Day menus?

A: In place of the more classic meat burgers, I suggest offering marinated Markon First Crop® (MFC) Portabella Mushrooms with savory vinegar, high-quality olive oil, fresh herbs (such as MFC Basil or MFC Tarragon), lots of ground black pepper, and kosher salt. I roast them in the oven or grill on a charcoal fire. Remove the gills with a spoon to create a type of cup to hold the above ingredients and cook until mushroom centers are tender. Top with aged Provolone cheese and melt under the broiler or on the grill. Slather with pureed peppadew peppers, mayonnaise, and Ready-Set-Serve® (RSS) Lemon Juice, then pile high with grilled RSS Sliced Onions, RSS Better Burger Lettuce, and sliced MFC Tomatoes—all on toasted brioche buns.
